

Network and Project Manager (f/m) in agri benchmark Cash Crop

We help to manage challenges in global agriculture. agri benchmark Cash Crop is a global non-profit network of agricultural economists from 50+ international research institutions. We analyze major trends in global crop production and disseminate reliable and usable information to decision makers in agribusiness, policy and international institutions.

We are looking for a colleague who is eager to strengthen the collaboration between the Center and our scientific partners; manage our data-quality program; and undertake their own research projects.

Your key tasks and responsibilities

- Assess and validate information and farm business data provided to you by our international partners
- Conduct and coordinate research on the economics of production systems from the perspectives of our clients
- Design, promote and realize improved interaction with our scientific partners
- Acquire new projects and new partnerships and thereby contribute to the growth of the network and develop your own business area.

Your qualifications

- Master degree (or equivalent) in agricultural science/agricultural economics
- Solid understanding of agricultural production systems and related economics
- Ability to write and speak fluently in English
- Experience in managing and coordinating projects and people, preferably in an agricultural economics environment
- Skill in presenting complex issues in a way that non-experts can follow easily

You want to

- Interact with farm economists from all over the world
- Work on a growing international team - currently eight farm economists - that manages the agri benchmark Cash Crop network
- Cooperate with global players in agribusiness, policy and international institutions
- Contribute to the growth of a young non-profit company with an entrepreneurial and dynamic spirit by providing new insights in global crop production

Your personal profile

- Prefer a self-directed and well-organized work style that ensures meeting deadlines and jointly agreed goals
- Interested and able to work on teams
- Able to work with and appreciate people with rather diverse cultural backgrounds
- Willing to travel internationally on business trips
- Very creative and interested in exploring new ground

agri benchmark values performance and outcomes – therefore, to the degree possible, we provide flexibility in work schedules. In return, we expect a high level of commitment and flexibility in achieving results and meeting goals. Our offices are located in Braunschweig, Germany.
